Dear Gary

Would you please extend to all those involved in the recent South-West Convention my very warm thanks and appreciation of their efforts.

The feedback from the South-West and from University officials who attended was extremely positive. There is absolutely no doubt in my mind that activities such as these contribute enormously to the Academy's good name and to the goodwill towards the Academy in the community. I am sure I advised you at the time that the 1991 South-West Festival drew unsolicited favourable comment from politicians from both sides of the house during the Legislative Council hearings in the 1991/92 budget provision.

I am very well aware that events of this sort succeed only when an individual has the initiative and drive and organisational skill to make it happen and when the prime mover, in this case so clearly yourself, can gather a team of committed and interested people in support. Please accept my personal thanks for an outstanding effort on your own part and pass on my congratulations and thanks to all concerned.

Yours sincerely

Dr R L Vickery
Director
