FORD'S RESTAURANT used to be situated at 447 Broadway, but we noticed a little (make that a lot) of activity going on around there the other day.

Stopped by to chat, and met the new proprietors, Gary France, formerly of Syracuse, and Terry Bohn, formerly of

Owego. (Now, that's not Oswego, it Owego!)

They have refurbished the entire front of what used to house the former H&R Block Tax Consultants, and found pure copper. So help me, that's right; pure copper is now shined up and glistens in the sun, and three coats were removed from what turned out to be beautiful antique windows.

They said they will restore the entire building before opening "Le Sounde," a shop specializing in stereos and components, and that opening is scheduled for about a month from now, after they remove the many coats of paint, reveal the beauty that once graced Broadway, including removing a dropped ceiling. (The boys have their work cut out for them, but they seem more than eager to do the dirty work before going after the cash.)
